DSM7

Everything you need to run
an optimised manufacturing business in a box.

DSM7

Obsessively designed for the business people in manufacturing

We build products to help companies that make things, sell what they make to more people, and keep their businesses healthy by giving them a way to find new customers and the tools to control everything they do.

1 Part One

Imagine starting every morning knowing what needs doing, who's doing it, and how the business is getting on. Your team can work together, important information is easier to find, and you have more time to focus on building the business.

2 Part Two

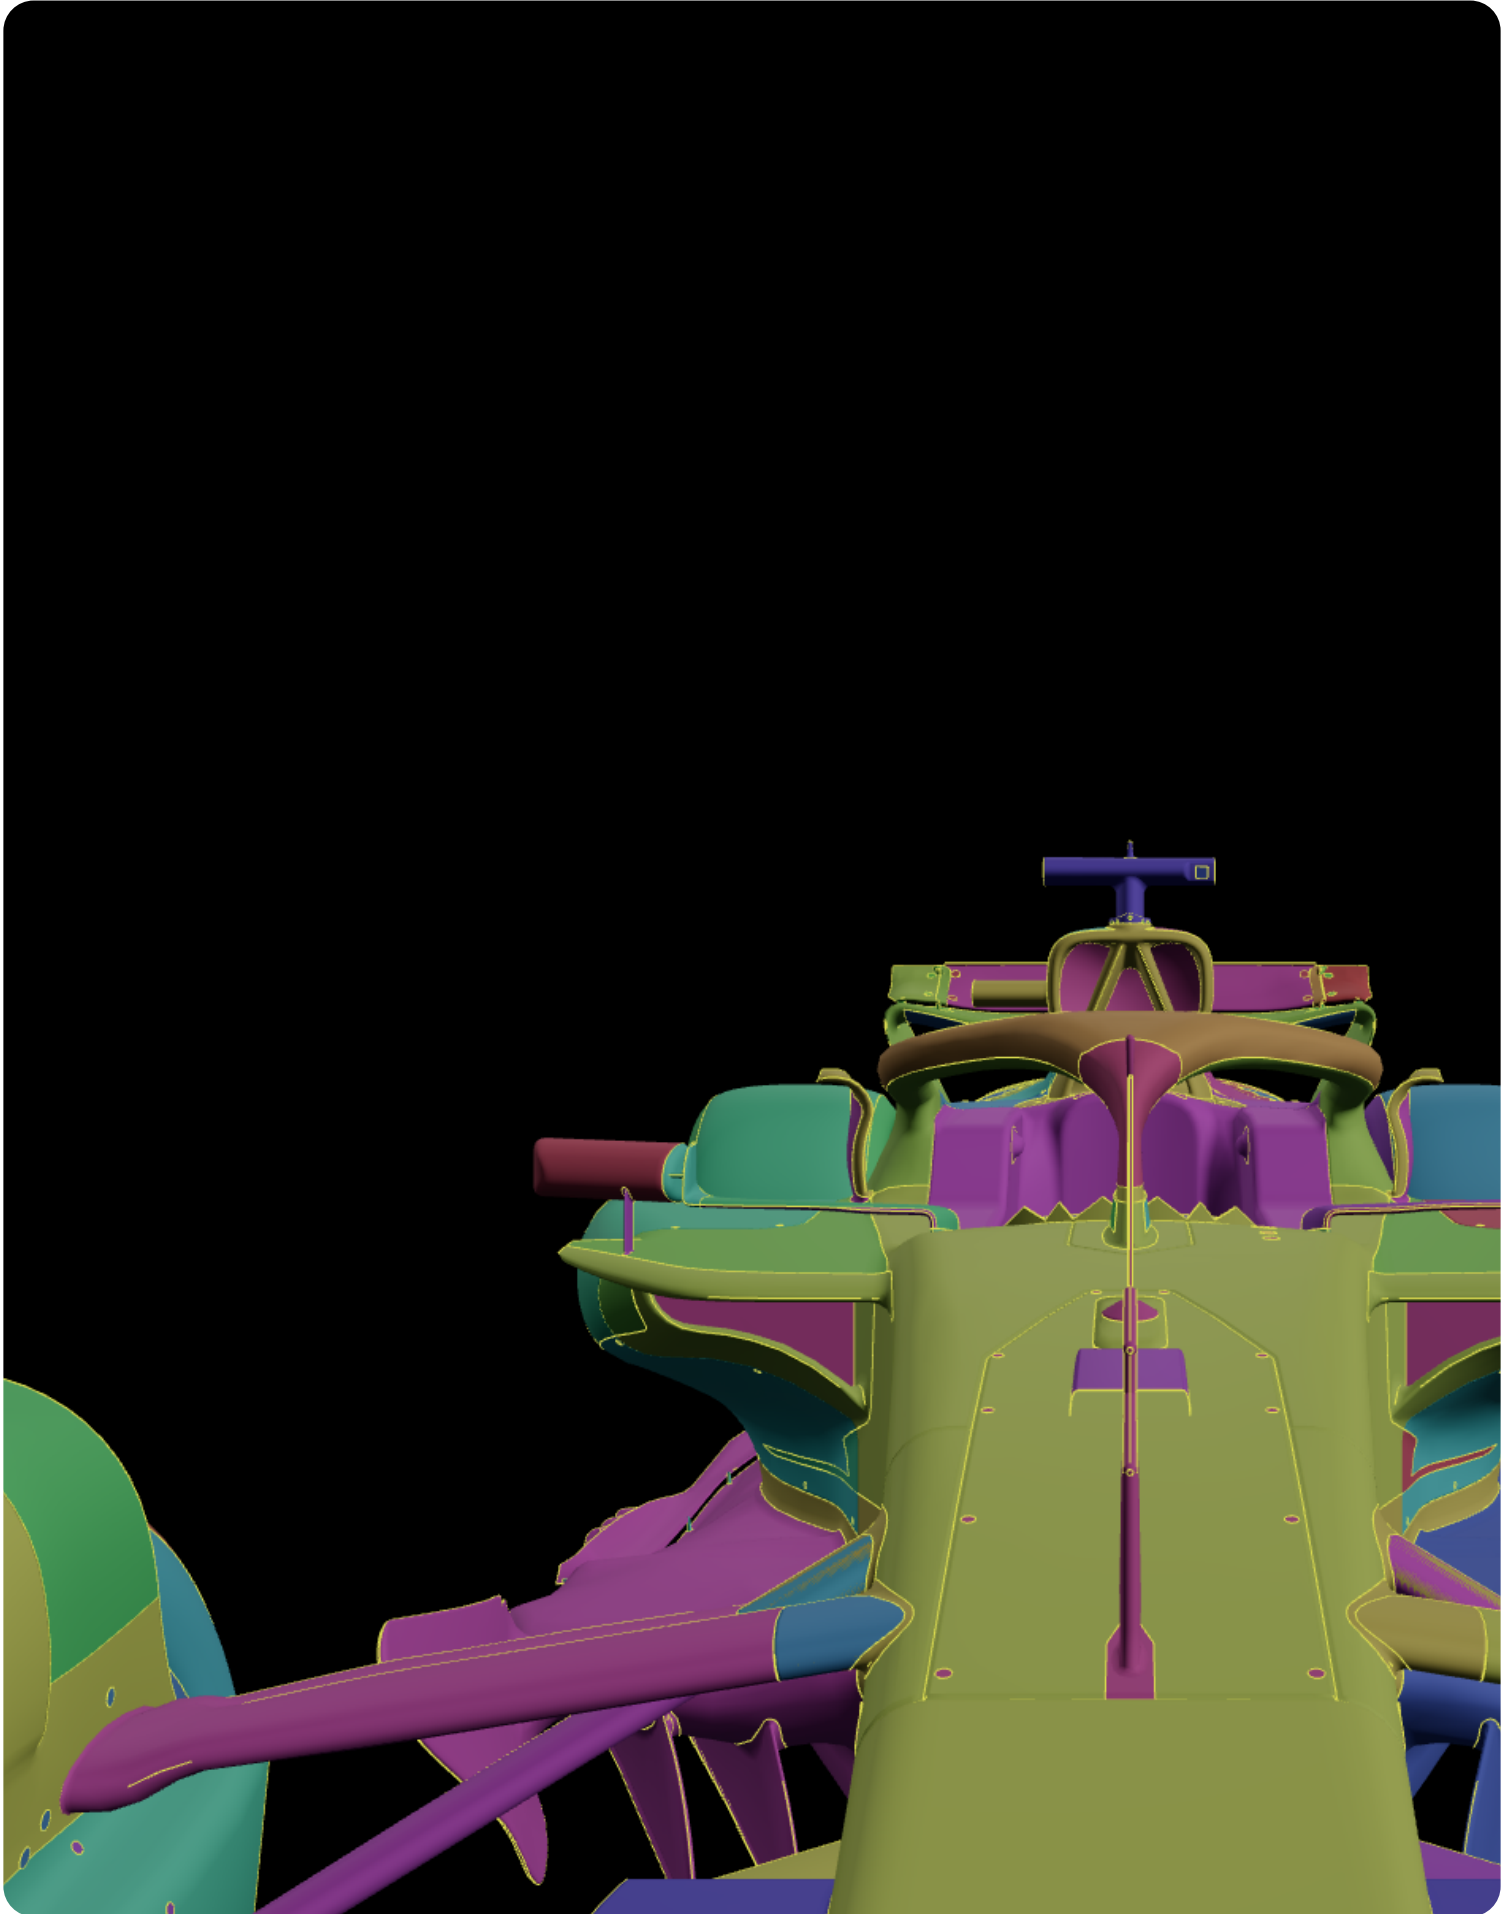

Your company makes something that another business needs. They find you, you discuss the job, agree on the details and win new business. You can also actively bid for work, negotiate with other companies and follow what's happening in your market without attending one trade show or exhibition.

Virtual Control Centres

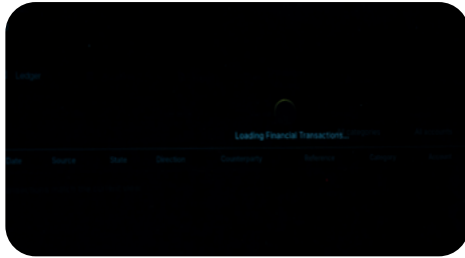

¹ Run your business

One place to plan work, coordinate your team, manage money, automate admin, and see what is happening across your business.

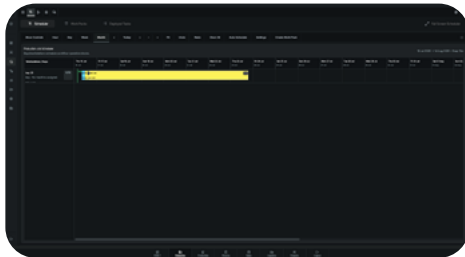

Functionality

Money and resources

Keep track of business finances and the resources your company uses.

Planning and scheduling

Plan jobs, organise projects, and see what needs to happen and when.

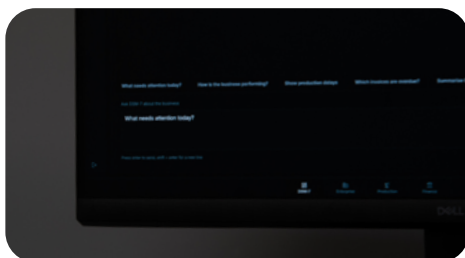

People and communication

Share information, talk to one another, and know what needs doing.

Production, processes & operations

Bring important information and everyday activities together so you can see what's happening across your business.

Business, Logistics & Administration

Track every goods-in & goods-out movement with automated documentation and transaction referencing.

¹Benefits

Give your team the information and tools they need to work together and get things done.

Advantage	Desc.
Save time	Spend less time searching for information, chasing updates and organising work manually.
Keep work moving	Help people understand their priorities and reduce avoidable delays.
Make better decisions	Understand what's happening before deciding what to do next.
Run a stronger business	Make it easier to manage day-to-day work while making room for growth.
A clearer picture	See how jobs, projects, people and resources fit together, operationally, logistically & financially.
One place to work	Bring more of your team's activities and information together instead of spreading them across separate tools.
Better coordination	Help different people and teams understand what is happening and what they need to do next.

Digital Trading Desks

Discover products, find suppliers and customers, bid for work, negotiate deals, communicate externally, transact and track market activity.

Functionality

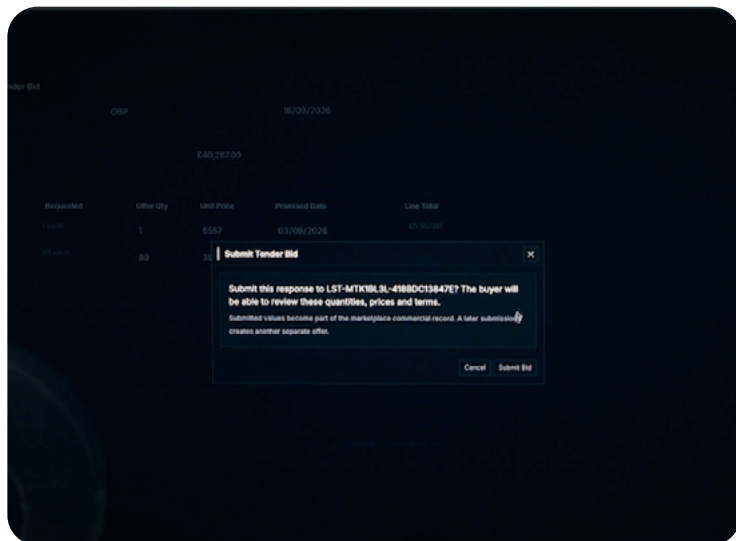

Communicate and make payments

Talk to suppliers and customers, keep conversations together, and use the built-in payment portal to make transactions through the Marketplace.

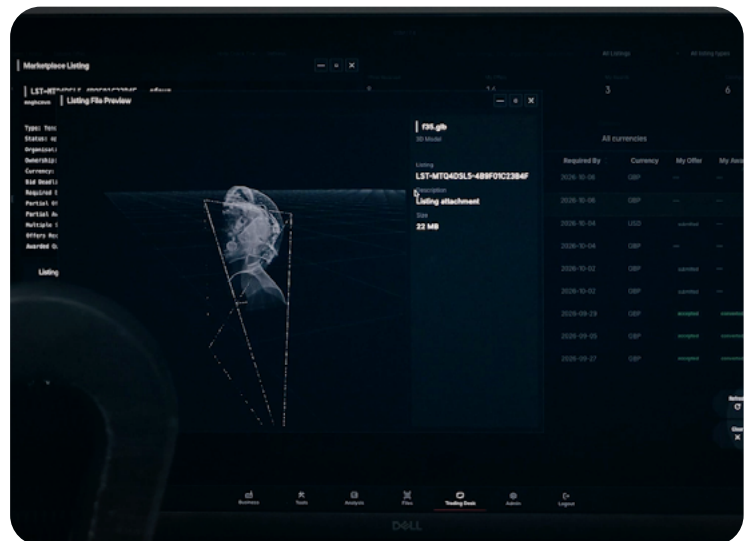

Follow market activity

Keep track of activity across the Marketplace, see what's happening, and spot potential products, customers and business opportunities.

Bid, negotiate and agree on work

Submit bids for available work, discuss prices and terms, and negotiate with other companies to reach an agreement.

Find and sell products

Discover products, parts, materials and equipment, or show other companies what you make and sell.

¹Benefits

Find the right products and suppliers more easily, so you can get on with the work your business needs to do.

Advantage	Desc.
Find new business	Discover suppliers, customers, products and work opportunities beyond your existing network.
Reach agreements more easily	Broadcast & discuss requirements, negotiate terms and work towards agreements with other companies.
Move from discovery to transaction	Progress from finding a product or opportunity to arranging a purchase and making payment through the built-in portal.
A clearer view of the market	Follow Marketplace activity to help understand what's available and where opportunities may exist.
Business conversations in one place	Keep communication with suppliers and customers connected to the business being discussed.
